Link Transit's website garners industry award

Posted by: adonaimedia in website , web development , web design , Joomla! on Nov 18, 2008

Link Transit was recently awarded first place for website design at the 2008 AdWheel Awards during the 2008 American Public Transportation Association's Annual Convention.

Our firm has worked closely with Link Transit over the past year on development and design of their new website. One of the goals of the project was to take home the prize in this category ... mission accomplished! Visit the portfolio page to see more information about this project.
